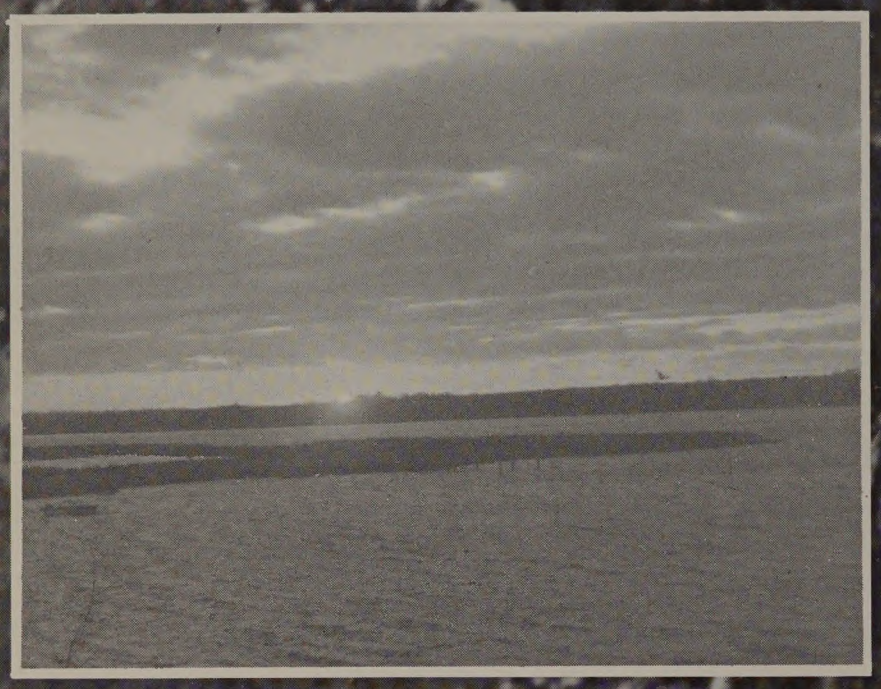
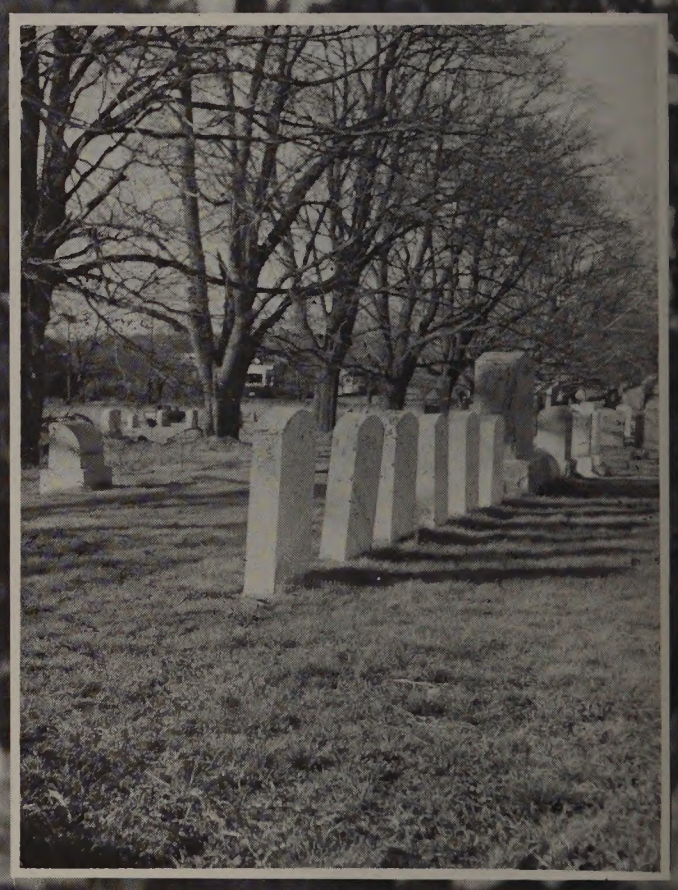
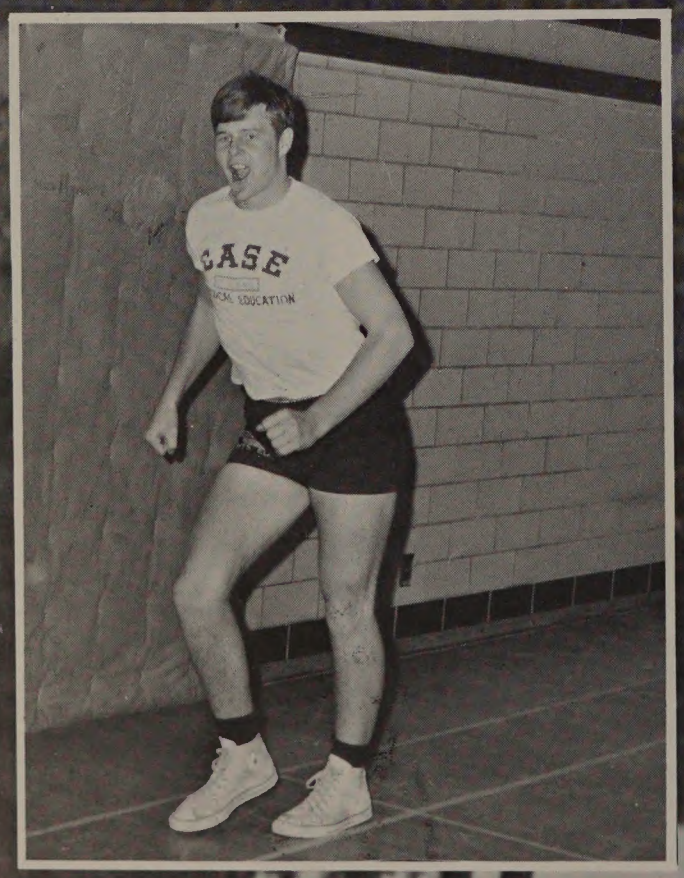
To Everything TURN
There Is a Season
and a Time



A time to be Born



A time to Die



A time to Dance

A time to Mourn

TURN, TURN, TURN, TURN, TURN

For Every Purpose Under Heaven

A time to Gain

A time to Lose

A time to Hate

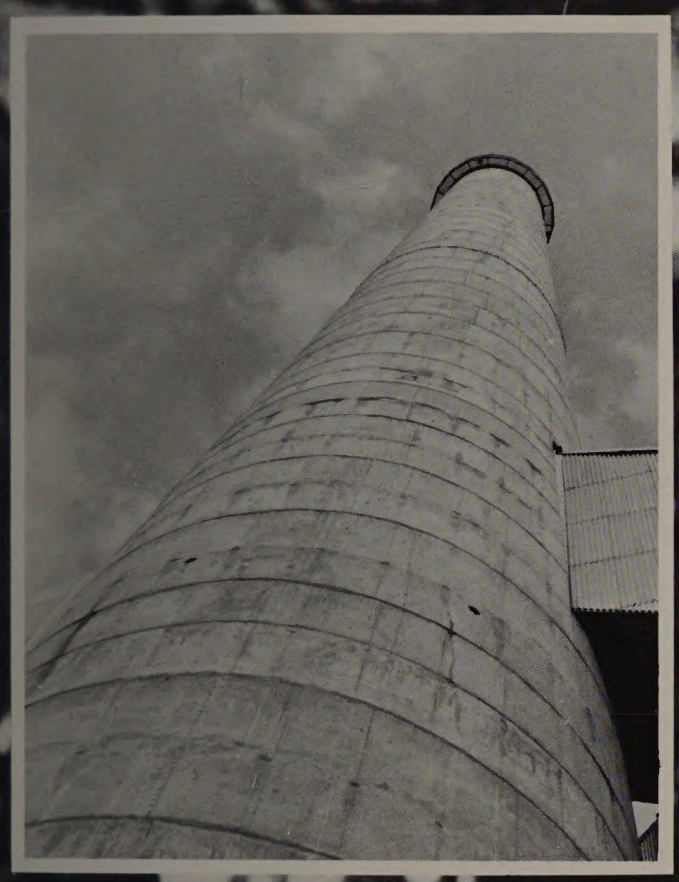
A time to Love

A time for War

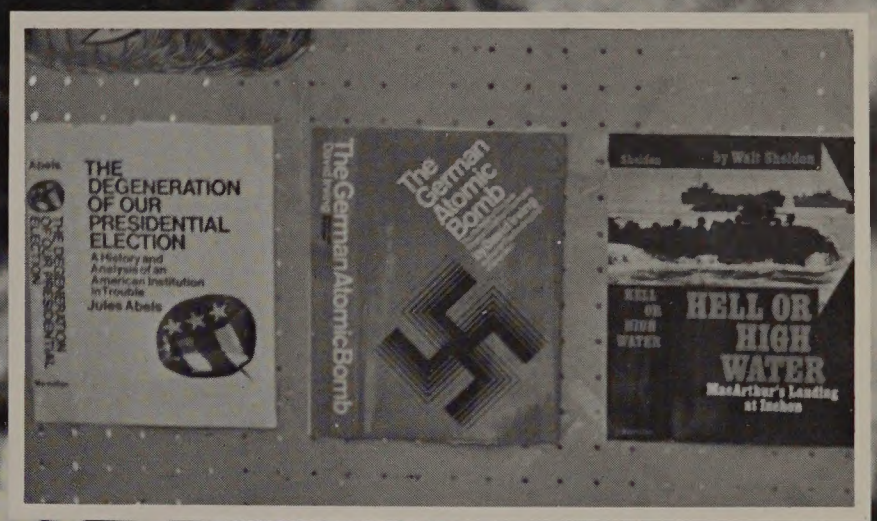
A time for Peace

A time for Silence

A time to Speak

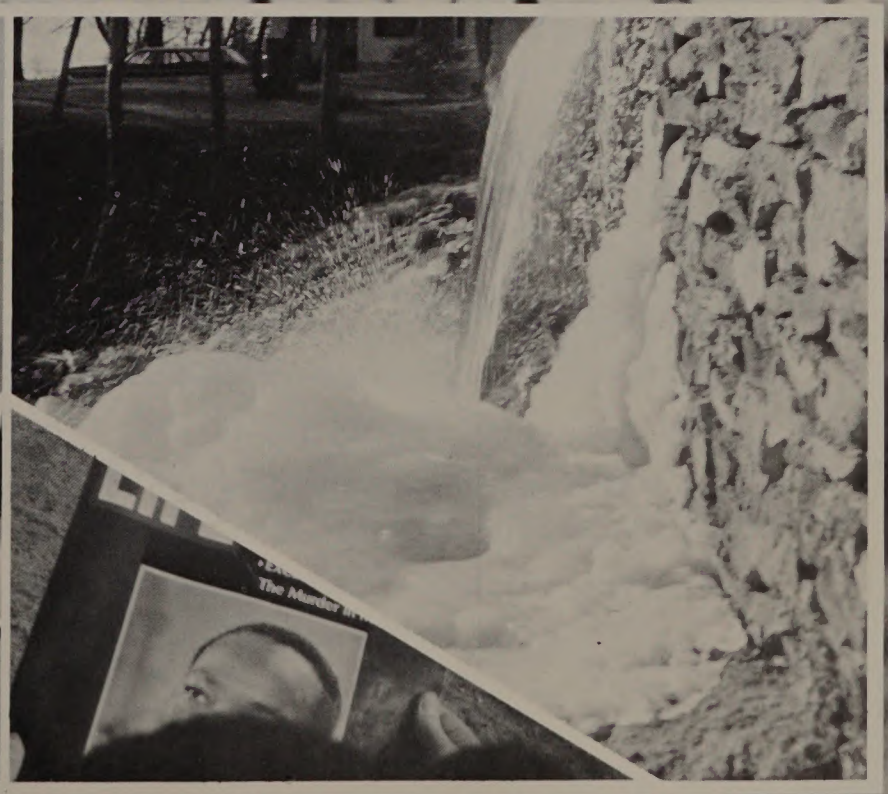


A time to Break down



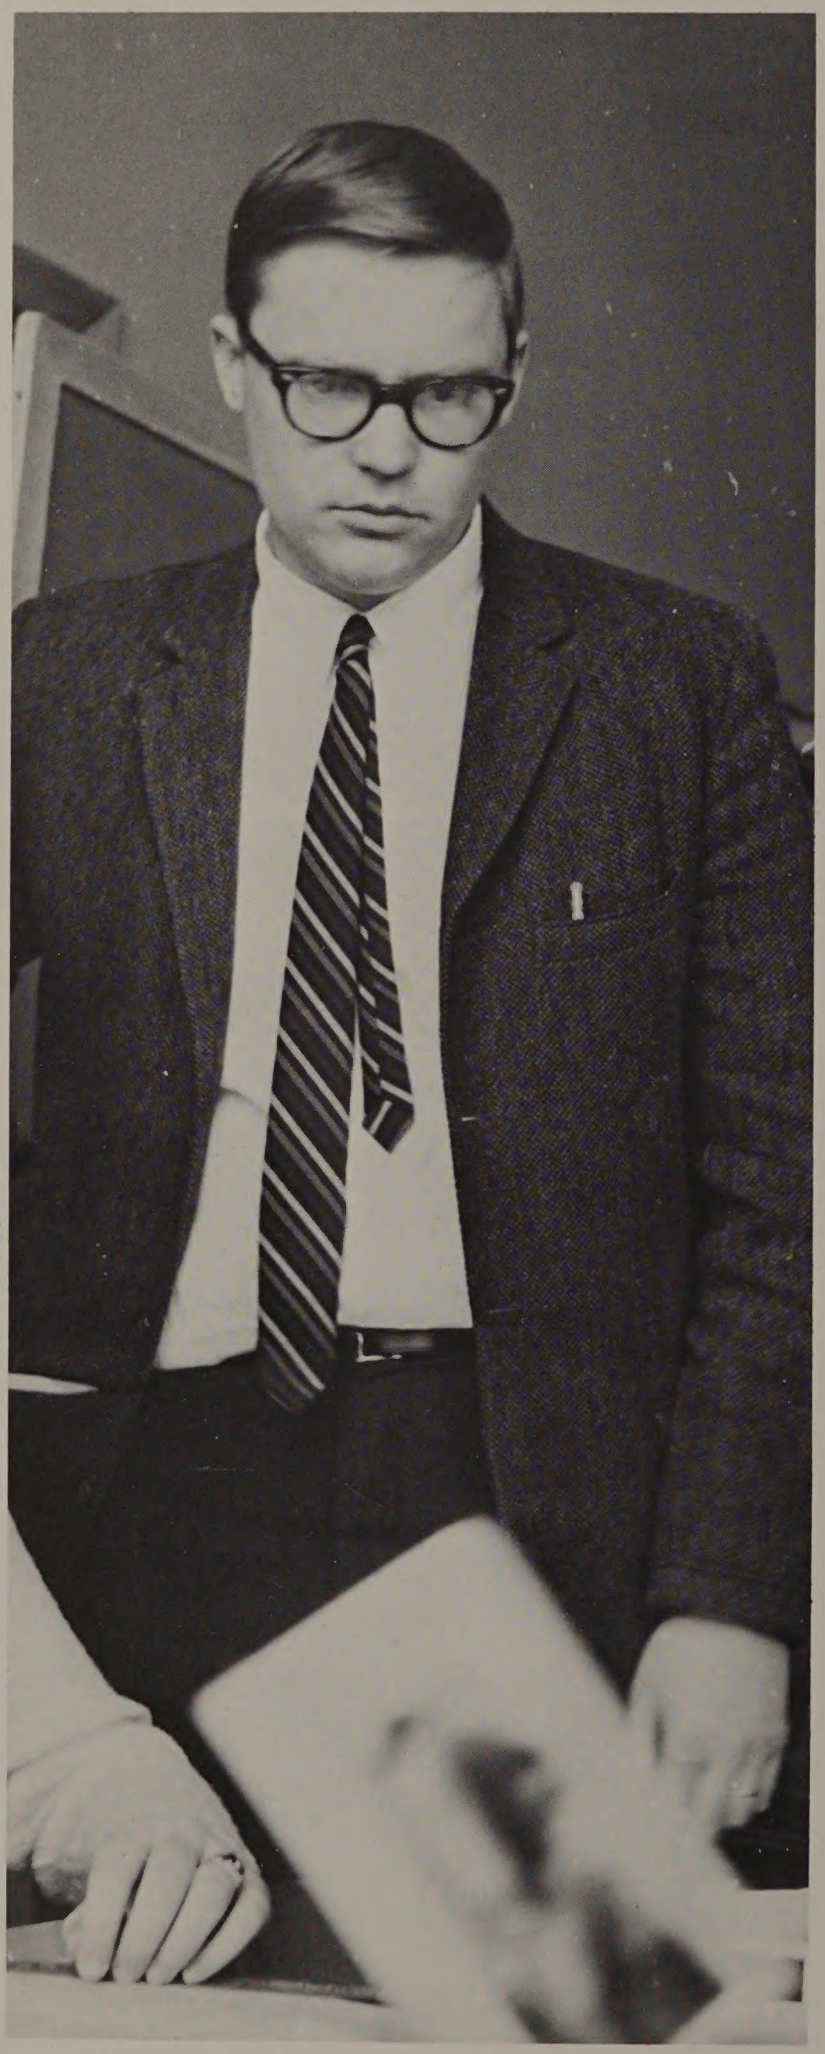
A time to Build up

A Time For Peace



I Swear It's Not Too Late

Book of Ecclesiastes



Mr. Austin J. O'Toole

Dedication

While most teachers are content with conventional subjects taught using purely conventional methods, Mr. Austin J. O'Toole stands distinctively apart. To some, his classes are strangely unorthodox and perhaps even ridiculous, for the grammar, drama, novels, and poetry of "traditional" English courses have been abandoned. They are replaced by subjects which go far beyond the high school and even the realm of literature to life itself.

OT comes staggeringly close to a true meaning of the word "teacher" as he prompts others, while giving of himself, to think and to seek beyond the superficial present.

The 1969 Chief is dedicated to him, not merely to fill up space, but because he is a special person whose knowledge and influence, like the skylark in this poem by Shiki, will remain when that of others has been crushed and forgotten.

Treading the clouds,
inhaling the mist:
a soaring skylark.

Foreword

Four years have passed too quickly, leaving only memories. There was a time for everything while we were at Case—a time to learn, a time to laugh, a time to live. The days were filled with work, play, tension, excitement, and sorrow, and we grew. Yet our growth cannot readily be measured, for each of us took our own meanings and answers from the experiences we shared.

Time moves on and so must we move with it. The class of '69 will break apart and each of us will go our separate ways. But in the pages of this yearbook, in the priceless moments of youth captured by a click of the camera shutter, we will be together, and the time that was 1969 will remain forever.

In Memoriam

For nearly four decades Mr. Robert Bannister served the community of Swansea as teacher of business, education, bookkeeping, driver education, and as athletic coach. Moreover he was a teacher, advisor, and friend to teenage boys and girls at Case High. The students, richer by far for having known Mr. Bannister, describe him simply as a "great guy." The students, the school, and the town have grown on the wisdom, character, and personality of teachers like Mr. Bannister.

And even in his passing he remains a teacher.

The impossibility of ever replacing him teaches us the richest lesson of all: that a human being can attain a real and individual nature through kind and unselfish love. This is his legacy to us, a gift that was given in deeds for thirty-five years to the youth of Swansea.

One can only speak in praise of this man.

Mr. Robert Bannister

Administration

Mr. Robert Couture—Assistant to the Superintendent

Secretaries

Mrs. Squire

Mrs. DeMattos

Mrs. Roberts

Mrs. Hetherson

Mrs. Stickler

Miss Helen A. Reagan—Principal

Miss Reagan graces the office of Principal with a dignity and a wisdom which endear her to us as a great and gracious lady. Her office is a place of warmth, guidance, and understanding, tempered, when necessary, with criticism and frank warning. Her name and her life are inseparably linked with the school, for she has at all times shared its growth, suffering, and advancement. Miss Reagan is truly dedicated to the fine art of teaching and each day finds reward and satisfaction in the individual students who pass through the halls of Joseph Case High School.

Miss Reagan

Mr. Edward R. Silva—Vice Principal

Mr. Silva

"Let me have your attention for just a few minutes, please. The game tomorrow . . ." This familiar statement brings to mind Mr. Silva—the excited and faithful sports fan, the firm disciplinarian, the friend, and the man whom underclassmen call "Mr." and seniors openly call "Unc." Life at Case would not be complete without him, for along with the fun and laughter are mixed guidance, strength, and wisdom. His service to the students is a great one, for through his efforts, they may learn the values and responsibilities of being young men and women.

Faculty

English

MRS. LEGER

About Bodoni"

Act 1: Enter the English department. Begin four years of continual pursuit, discovery, and growth under the watchful concern of the teacher-directors.

Act 2: Study the greatest masters of the English language from Twain to Shakespeare to Joyce. Read, write. speak, work, play, and somehow learn.

Act 3: Plant the seed of knowledge and care for it with the rich soil of genius. Harvest the blossom of Wisdom, Life, and Truth.

MR. ADAMS
University of Rhode Island (B.S.)

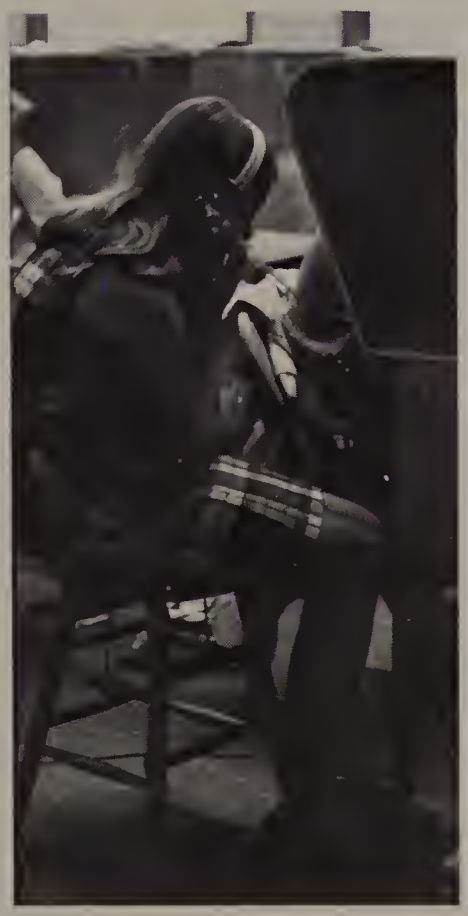
Languages

MRS. PAPANDREA
Brown University (M.A.)
French, Head Language Department, Student Council Advisor
"Are you with me?"

MRS. PELLETIER
College of Chestnut Hill (A.B.)
French, F.T.A. Advisor
"Bonjour, mademoiselle. Ca va?"



The fast-paced world of today demands that we be versed in more than just our native language, and so the multi-lingual teachers begin their task. To speak, to write, to think in another language. The ultimate goal is not merely the correct conjugation of a verb or a fairly authentic accent, but the ability to assume a language which is different from our own, but no longer foreign.

MR. FLANIGAN
Harvard University (M.A.T.)
Latin, German, Latin and German Club Advisor
"Ist alles klar? ... Sehr gut."

MISS BARTLAM
Brown University (M.A.T.)

MR. PAPANDREA
Wesleyan University (M.A.)
Social Studies, World Affairs Club Advisor, Head History Department
"All right boys, today . . ."

MR. GORDON
Northeastern University (M.Ed.)
Social Studies, Varsity Basketball Coach, Varsity Baseball Coach
"Why are you late for practice?"

Social studies is a mixture of the old and the new. The study of past histories is the foundation on which is built knowledge and understanding of present countries and cultures. Today, more than ever, the events of the world affect everyone. Through respect, concern, and familiarity with the nations and men who constitute the international community, the challenge of the future will be met and conquered.

Social Studies

MR. CONFORTI
St. Anselm's College (B.A.)
Social Studies, Freshman Class Advisor
"Do you want me to take the tape recorder out?"

Phys Ed, Girls' Field Hockey and Softball Coach
"We teachers aren't as stupid as you think we are."

Guidance

The future looms ahead of all of us—probing, threatening, inviting, challenging. We are the sculptors of the clay model of Life and must decide when, where, and how we will begin to shape our destiny. The guidance department offers assistance in making these monumental decisions, and presents its knowledge free for the asking.

MR. O'HARE
Columbia University Teachers College (M.A.)
Guidance, Freshman Football and Basketball
"Not my Freshman!"

MR. DEAN
Bridgewater State College (M.Ed.)

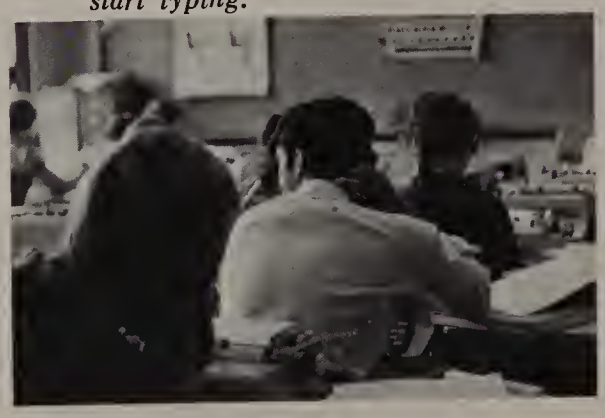
"All right class, turn to page 69 and start typing."

MR. BANNISTER
Bryant College (B.B.A.)
Business, Driver Training
"You're going to talk yourself right out of 5 credits."

Business

The expanding world of business is gaining greater and greater importance in today's society. The business students at Case gain proficiency in office practice which opens gateways for them in careers as secretaries and stenographers for offices, banks, insurance companies, and all business establishments.



MR. STUBBS
Bryant College (B.S. in Bus. Ed.)
General Business, Consumer Education

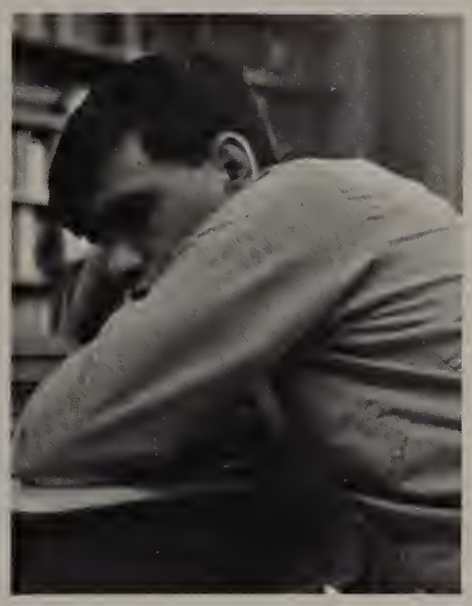
MR. CONROY
Boston University (M.Ed.)
Mathematics, Head Mathematics Department
"Chuck that answer right out the window."



MRS. KOSTAS
Bridgewater State College (M.Ed.)
Mathematics
"Could I have your undivided attention?"

Mathematics

When compared with the vast expanse called infinity, the world of the Math student at Case is minute. He studies numbers, polygons, factors, and equations, and slowly his knowledge increases, step-by-step, built on a solid foundation of arithmetic. Mathematics, to him, is algebra or geometry or trig. But perhaps one day, he will discover that Mathematics is much, much more in its role as the worldwide expression of science and the Universe.

MR. BERNIER
Clarkson College of Technology (M.S.)
Mathematics, Junior Class Advisor
"If you don't know the rules, you can't play the game."

MR. WILLISTON
Bridgewater State College (B.S.)
Mathematics, Head Football Coach
"Little Caesar"

MR. SMITH
Bridgewater State College (M.Ed.)
Physics, Head Science Department
"Did you hear the one about ..."

MRS. SIEDENTOPF
Brown University (M.A.)
Biology, Bios Club Advisor
"In the respiratory system ..."

Science

The realm of science is a strange combination of abstract theory and solid reality. We are surrounded by a world whose complexity constantly hurls new and challenging questions at us. Theories are created, tested, revised, and suddenly, voila—the answer is clear and ideas become fact. In his own small way, the science student contributes to this discovery of the physical world. And in seeking answers to scientific problems, he may also seek the answers to himself.

MR. REYNOLDS

A TRIBUTE TO THE SENIOR GRIDMEN

Dave Chace—a fine gentleman off the field, and a true sportsman in the arena. Dave fought off the injury bug to emerge as a key figure in the Cardinal secondary.

Gary Chace—used as an alternate tackle. Gary showed great determination under pressure. As a highly spirited player, he kept the morale of his mates up.

Russ Dawe—a good athlete indeed. Russ didn't surpass his expectations, but he certainly did grind out sizable amounts on the ground.

Ron Desruisseaux—a locker room stunt man. But he took his defensive chores seriously and was rewarded with a Narry honorable mention.

Art Donais—this guy added spunk to the team spirit. As the Cardinal signal caller he performed with proficiency.

Brian Leonardo—always a joker, always a top-notch competitor—that's our Otis. Brian led the Cardinals in pass receiving and stashed away All-Nary honors as an end.

Norm Messier—the return artist. Norm hunted down those loose pigskins and turned them into sizable pick-ups.

Mike Pavao—a triple threat. Whatever or however the Cardinal workhorse did it, he'd always come through. Mike established himself as a fine passer, a rugged receiver, and a speedy back.

Sandy Shepard—the blond-haired boy with the golden toe. It's been a while since Case has come up with a fieldgoal kicker. But Sandy came through and assisted the team as a cross-bar marksman.

Ray Silva—a hardworker who really dedicated himself to the game. Ray always provided the line with support during defensive service in his own modest way.

Wayne Vogler—the heavy weight. Wayne was the Cardinal's heaviest lineman and used his weight to recover fumbles. His fine blocking on offense often created holes for the backfield to utilize.

To these seniors go the best of luck in later life. Although your football days are over may you tackle any obstacles that bar your way.

FOOTBALL '68

The Cardinal football team of 1968 was one of the most spirited clubs Case has assembled in years. Despite being plagued with injuries and double sessions, Coach Bob Williston was equal to the task. He made ends meet to mold a respectable 4-4-1 mark. Co-Captains Norm Messier and Russ Dawe guided Case from out of the pits and on to victory.

Final figures revealed that Mike Pavao and Brian Leonardo were the backbone of the Cardinal offense. But this in itself was not enough for the Cardinals to retain the Narry League Crown. Case finished with a league record of 1-3 and an overall slate of 4-4-1.

Despite bowing to Holy Family in the semi-finals, Coach Gordon really mended together a fruitful campaign that will dwell in the minds of Case High followers for years to come. For the second straight year, Case deadlocked Holy Family for the top spot while waging a 19-3 composite.

Brian Leonardo and Christ Roberts teamed up for a sporty combination that will be hard to replace. The Birdman combo transformed ball clubs into rubble by monopolizing the boards. Paul Connors and Bobby Eddy turned in deluxe shooting performances and were backed with a dependable bench in Mike Vickers, Mike Raposa, and Steve Buckley. Dave Chace furnished the flock with heads-up defense.

This colorful club developed into the talk of the town after trekking across Garden hardwood for the second consecutive year.

With a 9-2 record, the Case Volleyball team finished in a tie with Sacred Hearts Academy for second place.

Under co-captains Pat Kirkman and Dale Bentley, the starting line-up consisted of top server Debbie Braz, who rallied 22 points in a game against New Bedford; Norma Tolley, whose serving also gave Case the advantage; Nancy Paulhus, whose power alone scared the opposition; and Kathy Lawton, whose set-ups to spikers Kirkman and Bentley added points to Case's score.

From the bench came competent substitutes in Andrea Rousseau, Debbie Arruda, Chris Waddicor, Claudia Medeiros, Sue Burrows, and Kathy Shott. By finishing in second place, the Case squad ended the season with one of the best records in the past few years.

Yearbook Staff

The yearbook staff is one of the most decorous groups in the school—until the day of each deadline. Four times during their senior year, there is pure bedlam for these brave souls who just a few months before had so coveted the prospect of being on the yearbook staff.

Mad scrambling to take pictures, organizing them into themes of precious memories, and just plain hard work are all part of the activity of the members of the yearbook staff. In the spring, they see the realization of the aspirations, the toil, and all the good times of the past year in the tangible form of the yearbook.

German Club

The newly-established German Club, under the leadership of Herr Flanigan, is one of the more progressive clubs of Case High. Because of the small number of German II students in the school, the club is organized under a program of pure democracy with no president and everyone having the same amount of power. There is hope that this new club will be successful and continue in future years.

French Club

Le Cercle Francais helps third-year French students gain a better understanding of the French language and the customs and culture of France. The "seances" are conducted entirely "en francais" and give the members a chance to exercise their speaking knowledge of the language. "La Classicale," the newspaper of the club, is composed of prose and poetry written by the members of the French Club.

Spanish Club

There is more to the learning of a language than simply memorizing verbs and vocabulary. "la Colderon" adds color and reality to the Spanish language. It gives third year Spanish students the opportunity to discover the culture of the country whose language they are studying. A program is presented each month by the members themselves, and the year is culminated by a trip to Boston. Here "los mienbres" may be seen bravely wading through a dish of "paella" or sincerely appreciating the beauty of "el ballet folkloriqo." It is certain that all the members of the Spanish Club find it a valuable experience.

World Affairs Club

Peace in Vietnam? War with China? Agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union to halt the missile race? All of these rest upon the decision and actions of national governments.

One of the important ways in which individuals participate in the international system is through developing and communicating opinions about the foreign policy of their own national governments. Accordingly, one of the objectives of the World Affairs Club is that of developing the capacity of individuals intelligently to analyze and judge foreign policy!

The World Affairs Club is oriented around today's activities around the world. It is composed of juniors and seniors who are interested in discussing and attempting to find answers to international problems.

Mr. Papandrea, Head of the History Department, is the advisor of the World Affairs Club.

The Future Teachers of America is a club which is beneficial both to the students and to the school and community. The members are given the opportunity to learn about various aspects of teaching and finally to participate in student practice teaching in the field of their choice. Money-making projects are undertaken at the beginning of each year in order to be able to later carry out service activities. The sophomore, junior, and senior members of the F.T.A. are all active participants in a club in which they have the chance to learn and grow.

ALMA MATER

Our strong bond can ne'er be broken
Form'd in dear Case High.
Far surpassing wealth unspoken
Seal'd by friendship's tie.

CHORUS: Alma Mater - Alma Mater,
Deep graven on each heart,
Ode Victorious, we go singing
As from these halls we depart.

Mem'ry's leaflets close shall twine
Around our hearts for aye,
And waft us back o'er life's broad track
To pleasures of past day.

High School life at best is passing
Gliding swiftly by;
Then let us pledge in word and deed
Our love for dear Case High.
